

Animatu 09 Competition Guidelines

Demoscene

Definition:

Animatu 2009 – international digital animation festival is going to occur from October 14 to 18 at Pax Julia – Municipal Theatre of Beja (PORTUGAL). Along with this festival we will have the II Demoscene Competition.

Single category:

Executable program of realtime audiovisuals, maximum size limit of 25MB, maximum playing time of 12 minutes. Open to all different platforms and operating systems.

Conditions:

- The registration is limited to 2 works for participant.
- The works must have been produced after 1st January 2008 and had never before been selected to this competition.
- There is no specific topic for the films, although the organization will not accept any message that attempts against the elementary values of the human being.
- The program cannot have material (sound and image) of a third party with author's rights without proper authorization.
- The program cannot be based in video capture.
- The program must not contain malware or other malicious code that attempts to alter system configuration.
- The program must quit by pressing ESC.
- The program must launch and run properly from read-only media.

Jury:

- The 20 best works from the submitted will be (pre-)selected by a Jury Committee. Followed by an evaluation of an Official Jury who will choose the winners.
- The Jury may choose no film if there are no quality works.
- The decisions of the Jury are definitive.

Prizes:

1st Prize: 500 euros.

Deadlines:

- July 30, 2009.
- You must send a link to download the submitted work to the email demoscene@festivalanimatu.com, along with the entry form correctly filled in and signed (PDF). For programs of less common platforms or operating systems, it's additionally required the submission of a full length video capture of the program running as intended on the required platform.

Notes:

- Taking part in the festival implies acceptance without restrictions of these regulations. Any possible doubt or question that may arise has to be presented by an exposure letter sent to the Organisation Committee.